Hi, Carmen:
I spoke with Linda about dates for a call. Her proposed dates for next week are Wednesday, September 6 after 11:00 AM or September 8 anytime. Let us know if either of these dates work for you and if not, we'll look at the week of September 11th.

Have a great holiday weekend,

Kim

Subject: RE: Revised Draft LUC - Former Pechiney Cast Plate Facility, South Parcel

Hello Kim,

The last several months have involved an extremely hectic workload. I do not have an update right now on the LUC review, we still need to do the review. I want to schedule a call with you, Linda, and anyone else that you think should be in that call to go over the sampling that was pending, the results of that sampling, and if the results of that sampling also need to be captured in any of the LUCs currently in draft version.

The call would also be to go over the parceling of the property and future redevelopment plans (if available) for each parcel. The Pechiney project has been idled at EPA since Nathan Dadap left. In order to move forward, I believe a call would be great to get myself acquainted with the most recent matters related to the site as I also review the LUCs.

Please propose dates and times convenient for a call with you. The call would need to be sometime after 9:30 am. I recommend proposing multiple dates and times for the call to make sure I can choose one that is mutually convenient.

Thank you for your courtesies.

Best,
Carmen

Good morning, Carmen:

I am checking in with you to see how EPA's review of the revised draft LUCs for the Former Pechiney Cast Plate Facility North and South parcels is going and if you had any additional questions or concerns. I believe DTSC does not have any additional comments at this time.

Thank you,

Kim
